

Bottega Intreccio

Seia 98 Pendant

Inject artistry and texture into a space with Bottega Intreccio's Seia 98 Pendant, a modular hanging light available in bright colors, natural finishes or traditional lacquers. Consisting of three tiers, its conical shade is handcrafted from 98 meters of bamboo wicker in the Italian village of Mogliano, by master artisans using the Renaissance-era intreccio weaving technique. Though its elemental beauty can certainly stand on its own, the Seia 98 has additional appeal in a group composition, where larger and smaller models showcase how each design interacts uniquely with light.
